

Arnie Dodges the green car issues

MAN AND MACHINE:
Green campaigner Arnie with his powerful new Dodge which does 13 miles to the gallon

TERMINATOR star Arnold Schwarzenegger, who is now Governor of California, has built up a reputation as a leading green campaigner.

But, despite calling on his fellow citizens to mend their ways, he has taken to roaring around in a 150mph Dodge Challenger coupe.

Arnie (60) was seen driving the coupe in Los Angeles with his sons Patrick (14) and Christopher (10) and his wife Maria Shriver (52).

Yet, just last Friday, he told a climate-change gathering: "America is so addicted to oil it will take us years to wean ourselves from it, and to look for new ways to feed our addiction is not the answer."

Nor, one would think, is his new 6.1 litre V8 runabout — which can reach 60mph in under five seconds.

Oh yes, and it manages just 13 miles to the gallon...
